DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The IDS(s) filed 02/22/05, 05/11/2005, and the references in the search reports filed 02/22/05 have been fully considered.

The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required:

In claim 1 (1-13), line 8, change "a conductive bump" to --said conductive bump--. Similar to claim 1 is claim 14(14-26).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Art Unit: 2815

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Imasu et al. (US 6,208,525), Applicant's submitted prior art.

As seen in Fig. 12, Imasu shows an interposer substrate for flip chip semiconductor device, comprising a first surface, an opposing second surface, and a dielectric member (a top portion of 19) having a plurality recesses extending therein from the first surface; each recess of the plurality sized to substantially receive a conductive bump 15 of at least one semiconductor die 10 therein and exposing at least a portion of a conductive element 4A at a bottom thereof, the plurality of recess sized which comprises a gap surrounding at least a portion of the conductive bump in at least some of the plurality of recesses; and at least one opening extending through the interposer substrate, the at least one opening that communicates with the gaps, wherein the at least one opening is formed through the second surface of the interposer substrate.

4. Claims 2-4, 6-13 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The applied reference fails to disclose and/or suggest the limitations as set forth in claims 2-4, and 6-13.

Art Unit: 2815

5. Claims 14-26 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Similar to paragraph 4 above.
